

UNIVERSITÀ
CATTOLICA
del Sacro Cuore

CALL FOR PAPERS

CALLmi: Where are we going?
Current and future trends in MALL and CALL
23-24 May 2019
Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore, Milan Campus

The Department of Language Sciences and Foreign Literatures and the Centre for Higher Education Internationalisation of Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore in Milan, together with the EuroCALL MALL SIG, are pleased to welcome you to an international two-day symposium focusing on recent Computer-Assisted Language Learning and Mobile-Assisted Language Learning research and future directions.

The symposium is open to researchers, including doctoral students, practitioners and teacher educators, and will be held over two days at Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore in Milan, Italy.

The symposium will focus on the latest research and practices in technology-mediated language learning and explores perspectives for effective technology integration in language teaching and learning in various educational contexts globally. The emphasis will be on the intercultural and pedagogical opportunities, challenges and limitations that technologies and mobile devices can offer, also within the perspective of the internationalisation of higher education.

Prof. Agnes Kukulska-Hulme from the Open University and Prof. Michael Thomas from the University of Central Lancashire have confirmed their participation as keynote speakers at the symposium.

Papers are invited on the following topics:

- Learner perspectives and perceptions of CALL/MALL
- Empirical evaluations of CALL/MALL approaches
- MALL for telecollaboration
- Virtual exchanges
- CALL and MALL task design
- Innovations in MALL
- EU projects on CALL/MALL
- Institutional curriculum innovation
- Teachers' professional development
- CALL/MALL and higher education internationalisation
- CALL/MALL for inclusive learning

Proposals are invited for two conference formats:

1. Research paper: 25-minute presentations (20 minutes for presenting, 5 minutes for questions)
2. Workshop: 50-minute session involving examples for classroom practice, guidelines for teachers, and resources for further development.

The conference language is English and all proposals for Papers, MALL/CALL-related European Projects and Workshops must be submitted and conducted in English.

Abstracts should be between 250-300 words, including title and basic bibliography, and must specify the conference format for which they are being submitted (research paper or workshop). The applicant's name, affiliation and email address should be included on a separate page. Please email the abstract to callmi2019@gmail.com.

Each proposal will be subject to blind peer-review by two members of the Scientific Committee and rated according to:

- Relevance to the field and audience
- Content and originality
- Clarity and coherence of session description
- Quality of writing

Scientific Committee:

Pierfranca Forchini (UCSC, Italy)
Jonás Fouz Gonzáles (UCAM, Spain)
Mirjam Hauck (The Open University, UK)
Francesca Helm (Università degli Studi di Padova, Italy)
Qian Kan (The Open University, UK)
Bruce Lander (Matsuyama University, Japan)
Valentina Morgana (UCSC, Italy)
Gary Motteram (University of Manchester, UK)
Amanda Murphy (UCSC, Italy)
Prithvi Shrestha (The Open University, UK)

Key dates

December 21st – Call for papers announced
January 21st – Submission deadline
February 28th – Notification of acceptance

Local UCSC Organising Committee:

Costanza Cucchi, Pierfranca Forchini, Elizabeth Moffatt, Valentina Morgana, Caterina Pavesi, Sonia Piotti, Francesca Seracini

Authors of accepted presentations may also submit a paper (5,000 words) for peer-reviewed publication. Details for this will be published on the conference website page <https://meetings.unicatt.it/CALLMI> (live from 10th January, 2019).